COMMUNIQUE

Dear Law Practitioners,

What we have been dreading, namely the onset of coronavirus infection, is now unwelcome news for our country and its people. But we never thought that in this era of globalization, we as a nation, could and would be spared.

In line with the efforts taken by Government to control the spread of Covid 19, the Board of the IJLS has taken the decision to suspend all courses at the Institute until further notice.

The Board will now look into and take up the challenge of initiating and developing online courses and will be communicating with you further. We wish that you and your families stay safe.

The Chairperson of the IJLS
